PHILOSOPHY AND DESIGN

We noticed there is a lack of option for children with special needs to develop their psychosocial developments, and parents struggles in doing so themselves. But the need is of high priority. Thus Breakthru prepared to provide a series of activities, syllabus and programs for such developmental in an organic (natural and child directed) manner.

ACE Is a Small Group Learning Intervention program designed based on 2nd Stage and 3rd Stage of Erik Erikson's Theory of Psychosocial Development, with the primary focus on creating lots of experiential learning opportunities for the child to be independent. As a result, these will lead to his initiative and further build his level of confidence to carry out daily living skills. The child can continue to progress upwards to more advanced programs as they achieve their milestones and breakthrough!

1

GOAL SETTING

1st session starts with assessing the child's needs along with the parent's expectation of their child to define the long term and short term goals.

2

Progress Check

Throughout the period your child is with us, we will constantly communicate your child's progress via WhatsApp or Telegram communication whichever is preferred. Video and photos of the child will be sent.

PARENTS CONSULTATION MEETING

Breakthru strongly advocates on parents' involvement in their child's progress. Through our monthly parent-facilitator consultation, we get to revisit previously set goals and assess the child's progress throughout the month. As well as set new long term and short term goals.

3

Parent's Feedback

Parents are encouraged to send videos and photos of the child's challenges at home via WhatsApp / Telegram to their respective facilitator in charge. This ensures that both facilitator and parents have a common understanding of the child's behavior at home and at the center.

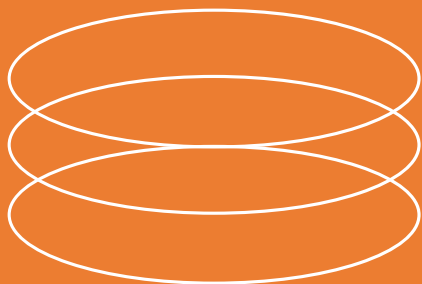

4

Revisit Goals

After a month, facilitators and parents will agree on a meeting date to assess the goal progress and marking it based on competency levels.

If the goal achieved is completed the parents are eligible to receive a RM100 rebate.

New goals will be established and work in progress goals will be reassessed .
